

Hello Everyone,

First, I'd like to welcome all the new folks to our email update list. Even with the season winding down at the Downtown Farmer's Market, we got a great response! We'll be out there for the last two weekends of the season, taking information surveys from folks, signing people up for the update list, and generally learning how to man a booth at the Market in an effective fashion. Next year we hope to have a table at the Market during the entire season.

Some recent news:

-- Our website is up and already getting a good response! You can find it at www.terrefoods.org. If you would like to help our website gain publicity, the best thing you can do is to link it from any other website you can--this will help the website show up on Google searches!

-- With the new website comes new email addresses. The open email line for any members of the Core Group to see is info@terrefoods.org. My own co-op email is robyn@terrefoods.org. If you have any coop-related emails to send to me/us, please use one of these emails rather than my private email (the Verizon address)--this will help me keep my inboxes straight!

-- Our brochure is finished, and is attached to this email. Please feel free to print this out and distribute it in any way you see fit (each page has 3 brochures which should be cut apart). We created it with the idea that it is a quick and effective way of giving interested folks useful information and contact info for the co-op. I plan to keep a few of them on me at all times. If you would like pre-printed copies of the brochure, just ask and we'll get some to you!

-- We still need a couple of volunteers for the October 27th Farmer's Market, one for the 8:30a-10a block, and another for the 10a-noon block. You'll be there with a member of the Core Group to help set up, answer questions and distribute surveys. I thought it was great fun to sit the table and talk with all the folks at the Market last weekend!

And a big THANK YOU to Barb & Richard Van-Hoosen, Lin Dunigan, Fern Cawley, Kim Hoppes, Jim & Karla Speer, Colleen Magnuson, and Denise Hampton for volunteering already!

Until the next update--

In Cooperation,

Robyn
